My 13th season teaching at Endwell Greens G.C. promises to be exciting, we just need Mother Nature to co-operate. I'm hosting a special event on Mon. & Tues. April 27 & 28. LPGA Hall of Fame Member & Master club fitter Lorraine Klippel will be at EGGC doing club fitting. Lorraine is one of the top club fitters in the county, it is a privilege to have her here. There are still spots available for fittings, call me quick if you want to take advantage of Lorraine's expertise. I'm also excited about some new teaching aides, my individual CD's of your swing, having a "mini library" at my shed plus adding "Jorie's Jourmies" to my services. The latter is explained further on page 2 of this Journal. As always, my goal is to provide the best possible lessons for my students as well as make updated golf information available. I'm very excited about 2009!

COUPLES TOURNAMENT

759-3410

11:00 AM Wed. Sept. 16, 2009 EGGC

I'm proud to announce the 12th Annual Ftorek Finale will be held on Wed. Sept. 16 at Endwell Greens. This is a very special day for both golf and breast cancer. The rules to qualify for the tournament are always the same, you must be a female student of mine who has had at least one lesson this season. The tournament is a Captain & Crew format. I put the teams together to keep them equal and fun! It's a non-threatening environment, a great learning experience, and a special way to raise money to help support breast cancer locally. The registration forms will be mailed early August and will also be available on my website. The Ftorek Finale fills up quickly, please let me know early if you would like to play!

Couples don't have to be married. They can be Mother/son or daughter, Father/son or daughter but, both must be my students. Please add this date to your calendar, registration information will be available in August. You don't want to miss out on this casual, but, fun day!

COACHES CORNER

It's "spring" again and I couldn't be happier! Although I enjoy working with my winter students at the Dome, it's always exciting to get back to Endwell Greens. I've already had an exciting spring, my friend Patti & I took my Dad to the Masters for a practice round. Definitely the most beautiful golf course & experience ever. Another of the summer highlights will happen early when my mentor, friend, and recent Hall of Fame member Lorraine Klippel comes to EGGC for 2 days of club fitting. That'll be a very special experience. The addition of "personal CD's" for those who are interested in studying their own swing should prove to be very helpful. But, it won't necessarily be for everyone. The other exciting venture for me is "Jorie's Golf Journeys." I can't wait to make your golf vacations more enjoyable and organized. As always, I encourage you all to go to the Coming Classic. I do. There are so many young American players right now that are exciting to watch. As for me, I'm looking forward to watching my students! Jorie
